TECHART presents extensive lineup of refined Porsche models at Bangkok International Motor Show.

TECHART reveals the brand-new TECHART GTstreet R Flyweight program as well as the first TECHART GTstreet R in Thailand as part of an comprehensive TECHART lineup at the Bangkok International Motor Show 2023.

TECHART, the leading refinement brand for Porsche models, is showcasing its newest TECHART Flyweight performance range and latest individualization programs at the IMPACT Challenger Hall Muang Thong Thani from March 22 to April 2. This includes the world premiere of the TECHART GTstreet R Flyweight range at an exclusive event on March 17 and for attendees to experience at the motor show as well as the very first TECHART GTstreet R based on the Porsche 911 Turbo S in Thailand.

"Together with our partner B Autohaus Ltd. as the exclusive distributor of TECHART refinement in Thailand, we're excited to bring some of the most powerful and visually stunning TECHART refined Porsche models on the market to the Bangkok International Motor Show. This is a fantastic opportunity for us to showcase our expertise as the leader in the refinement of Porsche models and to connect with car enthusiasts from all over the world."

As an additional highlight of the show, TECHART Thailand presents a full TECHART conversion of the Porsche 911 Carrera 4S. The shark blue Carrera 4S takes individuality to another level with a completely customized interior and aerokit in combination with matching TECHART Daytona II forged wheels. Furthermore, TECHART's refinement program for the Porsche 911 includes the new lightweight forged wheel set TECHART Formula VII Race. TECHART also displays extensive aerodynamic, styling, performance, wheels and interior upgrades for the Cayenne and Boxster along with the complete refinement program TECHART GrandGT based on the Porsche Panamera.
